Mid-Year Leadership Conference-St.Louis

Sigma Pi, through the support of alumni, has been able to provide funding which covers the housing and meal costs associated with the conference. Delegates learn about the international organization through interaction between members from other chapters, the Executive Office staff, and the Grand Council and Educational Foundation board members.

At the two-day event, the Fraternity brings together newly elected presidents, treasurers, chapter directors, and province archons for a series of training sessions. The agenda for the weekend allows attendees to meet, greet, and discuss matters of importance to the Fraternity, while developing them.

New Member Education

• The Foundation of Membership

Because the idea of pledging in the traditional sense has evolved, new member education programs must also be designed for change and adaptation. The Foundation of Membership is specifically designed to emphasize the ideals of the Fraternity and life beyond the undergraduate experience. Areas of emphasis include scholarship, the Sigma Pi Big Brother program, etiquette and our International History. This program is designed to compliment the revised edition of the I Believe manual of Sigma Pi Fraternity, the Study Guide for Academic Success, and introduce values based education.

ACE Project

In 2003, the Fraternity sought to establish a universal service project each Sigma Pi group could plan for its own campus. With the growing diversity of schools and the need for campus-specific action in mind, the Fraternity developed a program that would allow each colony and chapter of Sigma Pi to perform a service event tailored directly to the university's needs.
